Employers of Choice see talent recruitment as marketing and PR for their organizations. In a competitive employment market, they use creative new approach to sourcing. Then they screen and interview for "the right fit" and retain top talent by investing in trust.

This workshop shares the Workforce Center's perspectives on how employers can use "Six-S-Ful" strategies that go beyond conventional wisdom.

Participants will brainstorm:

- Street-smart grass roots sourcing methods.
- How to make job postings more attractive.
- Skills-based screening and interviewing.
- Effective strategies for retaining top talent.
